

Office of Drug Control Policy

The Office of Drug Control Policy (ODCP), whose director is appointed by the governor and serves as Michigan's "drug czar," is an office within the Department of Community Health. ODCP is comprised of four sections: Education, Law Enforcement, Prevention, and Treatment, and is committed to the proven idea that collaborative, community-wide interventions are more successful in addressing the destructive influences of drugs and violence. Our schools and communities must have safe and drug free environments that protect and enhance the well being of all our citizens, particularly our children. The mission of ODCP is to decrease substance use and abuse, and violence, by supporting effective, coordinated prevention and treatment strategies and services for every community.

ODCP administers the federal Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) block grant for Michigan. The Treatment and Prevention sections are responsible for oversight of Michigan's substance abuse treatment and prevention services for youth and adults, which includes approving prevention and treatment spending plans of the 15 regional substance abuse coordinating agencies in Michigan.

The Law Enforcement Section administers multiple grant programs. The Byrne Memorial Formula Grant funds are provided to reduce and prevent drug use and crime through prevention, treatment, and incarceration. Program areas include community policing, juvenile intervention, family and domestic violence, gang and drug task force strategies, drug testing, money laundering task forces, and the prosecution of drug dealers. The Local Law Enforcement Block Grant program provides funds for youth crime prevention and intervention projects and computer technology, and the Residential Substance Abuse Treatment for State Prisoners Formula Grant program provides funds for treatment services for adults and juveniles in state custody.

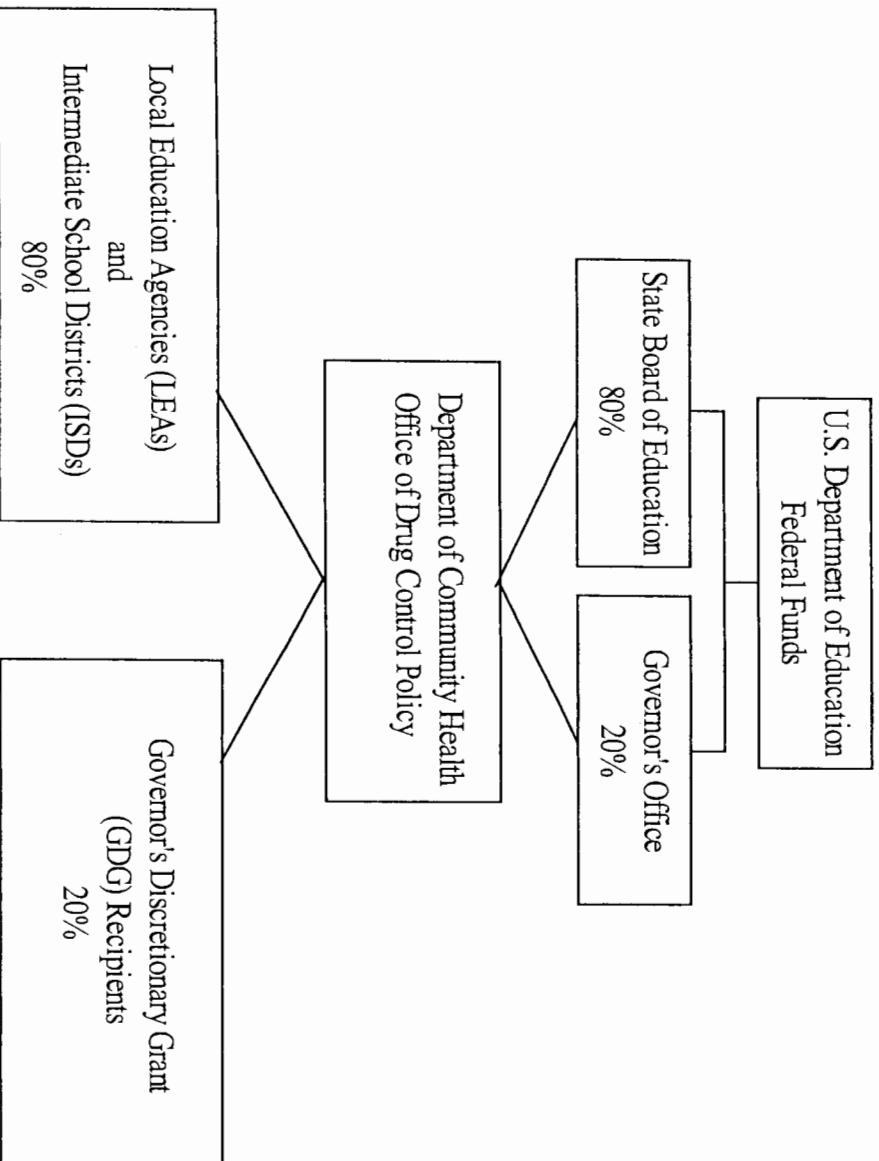

The Education Section administers two federal education grants pursuant to No Child Left Behind Act 2001: the Governor's Discretionary Grant (GDG) and the Safe-Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Grant (SDFSCA), through an agreement with the Michigan Department of Education. The GDG is intended for drug and violence prevention programs that target youth who are not normally served by state and local educational agencies, populations that need special services, delinquent youth, out-of-school youth, and other high-risk youth through community-based prevention initiatives. Awards are made to such entities as nonprofit community organizations, parent groups, multi-purpose collaborative bodies, juvenile justice agencies, and other public entities with 501(c) 3 status.

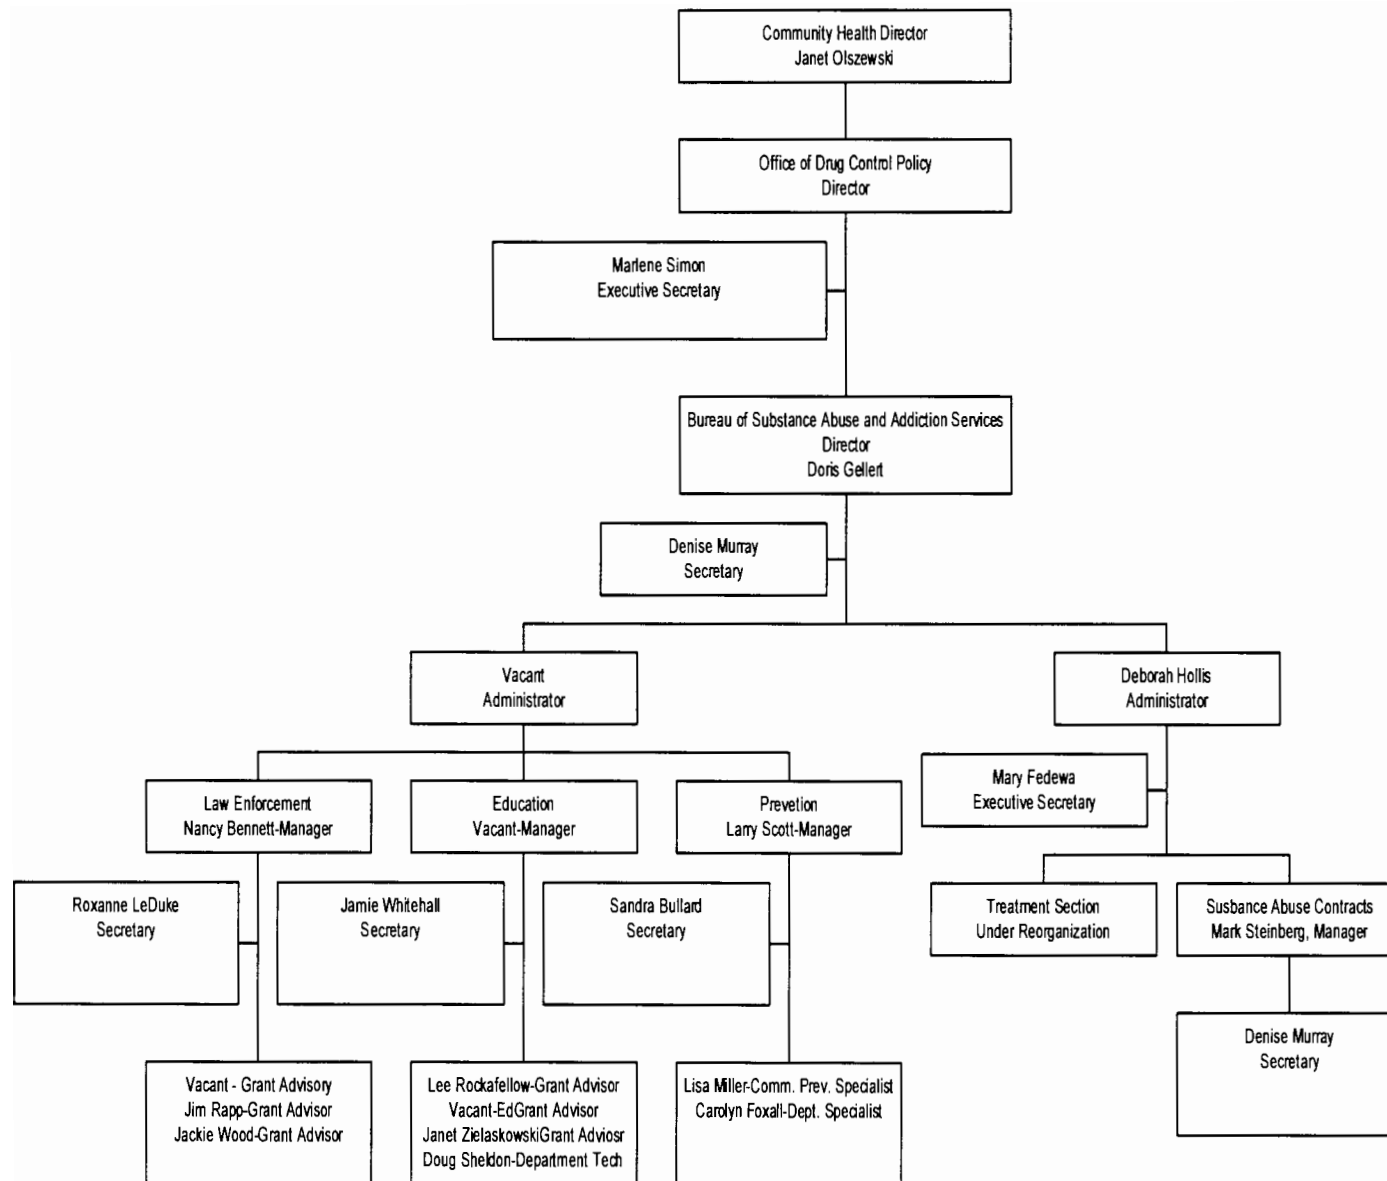

Title IV, Part A, SDFSCA Grants are intended for research based drug and violence prevention programs through a school-based prevention approach, and are awarded to local educational agencies (LEA) and Intermediate School Districts (ISD). Oversight and administration of both Grants is provided by the Education Section of ODCP.
